Absolutely amazing!! Thank you very much for that info. I look forward to the new updates. Do you know when the JOS site will be updated? Also this is off topic HP Hooded Cobra but the 40 day new meditation for beginners has chakra spinning. Most prepped can't even still see there chakras after meditating for over a year. That might discourage some people if it says easy chakra spinning and all they see is black. I have had a lot of questions to some things and it sounds like you are kicking ass and dialling some things in for us. This works would not be the same without you!!! Thank you Sir for all you do. Another question is are we going to ever get a live chat platform where we would be able to ask a HP some questions? That would be amazing. We all need to donate as much money as we can so our HP can help us instead of whatever job they have to do. I start work again soon and I plan on donating quit a bit.

Many people are worried and of course we have a difficult decade ahead of us. Yet, because the Gods do indeed have care and compassion for mankind, despite of our own stupidity, they are going to provide us with the spiritual food and resilience that we need to overcome things.

I will stay with everyone no matter what or whatever anyone else does. Everyone could leave here tomorrow and I will still remain doing the proper thing to help everyone to the best I can.

There are many people here who think likewise with me. Others will come to this understanding with time. Those who will discard this understanding will regret it, as they will not tap their beautiful inner potential as much as they could.

Updates will happen to the JoS page by page and bit by bit. I have been writing volumes all these years and will increase the pace. I understand the major necessity of this. I know what I have to do and what is my part in this.

HPS Maxine has achieved highly spiritually, and done all her end to the work. As of April 30th 2020, we were told by Father Satan that She has successfully finished her mission. She built everything. 20+ years, she fought tooth and nail.

The amount of people that will be helped and are being helped is ever increasing. We have been crossing the narrow path for a very long time. And it turned out that the Souls of Satan are still here, and are walking straight into His New Aeon.

Is this the first time this is happening? I will let this thought there to hover above for the minds of the wise young dragons. For the wiser of vision, they understand that what's important is that we are going into this Aeon right now.

We are moving through the debris of the enemy. But I write this to give you a glimpse of the light of the other side, the light that we actively are seeking and will in the end discover.

Now our generation's mission is to continue on this path and do the next phase of everything. People will benefit tremendously from this.

I wish I had everything available that will be available in the future, 10 or more years ago. I would be catapulted forward. But it's alright, we build for the next generations and all people here. Certainly the risks and the questions, or anticipation of many is extremely high, but that is the beautiful part in all this.

There is a lot of research that has been done. I have rectified and will be publishing some of it. When HPS Maxine has been involved directly, I will always directly mention it because her credits are hers.

I want also nobody to think that she isn't in this or that she has left people. We live in a universe with specific rules. We cannot cross these rules yet.

I've spent years accumulating knowledge, rectifying and learning. However I have kept a modest approach for people but now it's time for me to give, and that's what I intend to do, this is what is my task to do right now. I felt like our people needed modesty and support. I think this has reflected on the lives of a huge amount of people. Let's hope it will keep reflecting in the lives of exponentially more people as we get into Satan's Great Aeon.

Unless I am "suicided" or something, there is no way I am going to let up on anyone here. If I disappear, take it for granted I have been killed and never believe any other potential story people might tell you. There is no way I will desert this community or the souls of Satan unless I am dead. I welcome any other options to the path or whatever, but saying this just "in case".

I am aware I am fighting a beast that is right now way bigger than we are, especially physically. I don't care. I fought this shit when it was already too big to destroy me. Many of you have done the same. It's now multiplying in size and force, but our resolve is getting stronger and stronger. I believe in us all here completely.

HPS Maxine stood as a lone woman against this whole world, and she fulfilled her mission. She did heavy lifting and most of it will go by most not only not understood, but I will not disbelieve anyone here, nor in the Gods that are bringing us together here and pushing us forward and upward.

Anyway, what has the story of JoS been but a story about a small group of people fighting against impossible chances? All these years have felt like one has had a little fragile baby and now it's growing into a fully grown powerful being. We are all parts of this.

We have been winning against the monster, and indeed, we have severely wounded it. Not to say it hasn't wounded back and possibly it might be fatal, but then again, who can say the same in this world really?

Despite of anything personal, on a soul level, I am driven by full confidence and conviction in all of you. You are not like other people on this earth. You have consciousness and I truly do believe in the good of everyone in this forum. Indeed I have seen the future for many, but we are not there yet.

But are we walking towards this beautiful future? Most certainly. Is it coming too? Yes, of course it does.

Everyone is walking on a different line, but eventually the end result will be the beautiful handiwork of Satan no matter how things go.

In the darkness we have found strength, with which we will reach the highest light.

HAIL SATAN!!!!!!
