

SS Ritual Schedule for 28th February to 5th of March

by High Priest Hooded Cobra 666

February 28, 2020

Greetings to all of our SS Family.

Finally there are favourable planets to continue with rituals. As it has been observed, we have been scoring serious victories. Some of these have been posted, others are known, and others we won't know about as they never make it to the news. Irrespective of that fact, there is progress being done, and those who are against us are definitely not happy.

2020 started with a lot of unfortunate circumstances that have also affected some people, others closer and others less. We are keeping everything going, and everyone must keep up with meditations, staying focused on their goals, and take steps towards self improvement and self protection. The enemy will try whatever but we have to also keep going as there is no need to for anyone to be totally alone.

It is unclear how much the escalation will be in unfortunate events from the "Pandemics" that are being laid now, let alone a lot of other issues the the enemy keeps doing. Few SS that have communicated that they are on the epicenter do not describe nothing pleasant from this. Not everyone may be at the same advantage but by mutual help and workings done, we reinforce, and the Gods also help.

Remember to have faith in the Gods, and never give up. We have been in the offensive and winning, so naturally, they are going to lash out. This is just mathematics, one plus one equals two. Also remember another thing - if they could have ended anyone, they would have done it the very same moment they could. The enemy has no mercy and they also have no logic or compassion either. So if you are still here, you are here because there is power. All that matters is for people to discover this gradually in themselves and cleave one's souls to it.

One way to stay safe is obviously to have means of communication [The Forums for example, as Yahoo has been razed to the ground for evident reasons] and finances, knowledge and so forth. The rituals here are to help give positive airs for people to tread better.

Careful steps are being taken for further fortification and evaluation and we are still here [unlike many who are gone] because of Satan's grace and some watchful people who actually care and actually want to see things getting better.

No Satanist is required to suffer, and the end point in meditation is to be able to do managing, however on the path to this, in many cases, both this world and the planets can be unrelenting and brutal. We can help one another while also helping each ourselves, in a way that doesn't decrease nobody and increases everyone.

This is key in advancement and multiplying our individual power by using our collective power. No individual is as powerful as us together combined collectively. Sharing blessings is important and Satan looks upon us with pride when we are united in a form of unity that nobody can break, as thus, empowering ourselves and falling as an ever heavier fist on the enemy. But also for safety and comfort.

So long the RTR is being done, forces that include Muslim, Christian and Jewish spiritual forces are broken at the root. There is steady advancement and progress. This may look a little strange, but there are a lot of manifestations in the last years with the RTR. One could never imagine in 2013 or 2014 that in 2020 the world would be all in itself turning back slowly into Nationalism after the long drunkenness of "West YOLO open for everyone", or that 1 in 5 people in Europe would become aware quickly of that they are being Jewed after decades of ceaseless brainwashing.

It's actually happening.

What can also be said about the huge European backfire about the fake (((Refugee))) Kalergi crisis? Brainwashing of decades has been dispelling in around less than 5 years. Naturally, Jews are panicking and have been evacuating Europe.

Two decades earlier in Ireland [a heavily xian country massacred by the enemy constantly] it would be beyond imagination that the Blasphemy Law would be removed, but now, this was removed in January 17th 2020. People used to kill for (((Christos))) but now people are slowly moving away from this stupid mess. European countries are reacting heavily against xianity.

The enemy is mortified and their last ditch attempt is to try to Islamize Europe before the Pagan and European movements take over the heart and soul worldwide once again. Pagan movements are also emerging worldwide, and our agenda, as far as the enemy raises their hand against us, shows that we are there and that we exist. After all this censorship, all these attacks, all these attempts, this only looks like a miracle.

The downfall, public humiliation, and public exposure of the Communist, and Jew based regime in China, that is another victory that cannot be overstated. This sets the precedents for the first major breakdown of the world's largest Communist government that still exists. So many things have been exposed and so far the world is showing signs that indeed there is hope and that people are not the borg the enemy has manufactured them carefully to be.

Because I have to be short now, as to not deviate, I will post the rituals below. The Dates are clear in the title - We will be doing this for a week due to the favourable planets. This builds upon what we have achieved from before.

I also have half prepared a post to explain further on how people can receive better and more help from the Gods, in a technical way. Satan has explained before that this can be made easier.

For now we do these below, and remember to stay strong and resolute. Satan and our Ancient Gods are with us all, never forget that.
