

Enemy Hypocrisy & Magick

Anyone who knows anything of the occult, after you look into it, just sees that the enemy uses occult to the maximum against people; yet, prohibits anyone from anything related to it.

The enemy, Islam, Christianity and Judaism, use the so called "Forbidden occult" with a lot of semantics, pretending they are "not using it" or that "it's something else", while they read full-on discourses on the so called "Forbidden and will certainly land you to eternal hellfire as claimed by the holy book" crafts.

Numerous people of the enemy write whole books on Astrology, Rabbis cast natal charts, and I have even found certain exclusively jewish manuscripts which basically analyze everything the Sexual Tantra does, which they use to achieve their objectives.

Then they claim everyone who is a "witch" must be exterminated, of course, as all they are doing isn't tantra, astrology, and magick, don't you dare say that.

In fact, "Witch" above means "The Goy" or the "Gentile" who is interested in any of this, which is liable to extermination. As for the "pious ones", they will do anything under the sun while claiming it's "evil" to do so [for the goy of course].

The Vatican itself is also doing everything of this nature, yet they tell everyone else it's "Evil and it will land their soul to hell".

As their lies pile higher and higher, they also tell themselves other lies. For example, Christians keep telling themselves, like Muslims, that they have "Free Will", while all philosophical systems of highest levels knew this is not so.

They like to think that they are free while they are enslaved, a reality that is clearly not the case. Astrology, another art that they forbid yet practice incessantly, would be testament to this end.

The above is nothing else but what they do with money, such as saying it is "Evil" while the "Pope" sits on a golden giant throne, or even daring to go as far as to call everything spiritual a "superstition" as many jews are doing in universities, while they wear the Yarmulke hat, which is essentially the tribal token of spiritual judaism.

After they give a long speech on why all of this is nonsense, then they go to their house or synagogue and congregation to participate in what "Doesn't exist" with great piousness, such as chanting the Torah and so on, they are busy writing to you on twitter to not be bigoted racists because how could you even think this is a racial conspiracy or any other conspiracy going on in this world.

Because, as we all know, it doesn't exist, don't we all know what? It doesn't exist to the extent that if you keep mentioning it does exist, certain people [because, of course, it doesn't exist] will activate like borgs to put you in your place, like it happened with Kanye. That's how much it doesn't exist.

Islam, in particular, is also heavily infested with the most evil and nefarious magick gimmicks of the lower levels known to man. I have never seen a stupider and lesser system than the Islamic one, and it's fit to use for pigs only. Islamic "spell-casters" are also busy doing business in "Allah's name" over in the Middle East, despite all of this "Being forbidden" in Islam, which the "All-powerful allah" clearly turns a blind eye to.

As one can see, these people are living a life of hypocrisy, lies and contradictions, but they are also drunk on the power of the lies that they consume.

When people do not "comply" with Christianity or Islam, we know the infamous "I will pray for you", which is a code word for how they will psychically try to coerce you to become a Christian.

As they all do not have any power, they cannot do much or anything at all, yet they try this anyway. Nobody sits there for one second to think, why is this "praying" necessary to at all costs accept a jew named "Jesus"? Why is this even a thing in this world? Why no other cultures of the past obsessively tried to convert people through the actions of beheading or eternal hellfire? While on top of it claiming this has to do with "God's love" at the same time?

Needless to say, the enemy is the hypocrite of hypocrites. Everyone who follows them is likewise very much a hypocrite. And the Truth of the highest aspirations will not be handed by the entities in control of the universe to those who are such hypocrites and foul creatures.

Human beings for centuries have wasted their time just being on their knees for these foul systems, which teach no science, spiritual or material, and turn humans into animals. As one can understand, humanity was made to eventually escape the animal level, not to be eternally into it.

The people who propagate this fall, such as those who forbid spirituality, are propagating their own damnation by opposing evil to this plan of the Gods.

No wonder, these "mainstream" religions are gathering their pieces and are carriers and heralds of great transgressions, which they prolong and extend the suffering of their own devotees by telling them the foulest of lies such as that spirituality, meditation, or inner knowledge should be "forbidden".
