It's one of these bullshit that people somehow created and then took a life of its own in the groups.

I also wanted to add that this is listed only for external use.

This is listed as a death mantra. Do not use on yourselves."

Yes, but it nowhere states for it to be used ON someone, let alone on one's self. This is something people have come up with randomly on their own.

It clearly states this is for banishing. So, the idea that this was for use on someone was created from someone else, or overly represented around.

This is for external use for banishing ghosts and other enemy influences.

Please make sure to double check things before doing so. Better use Ansuz for purposes like that.
